Single Equality Scheme

Our Single Equality Scheme is informed by our values and aspirations. The College strategy indicates our vision and how we will achieve this. Equality and Diversity and a commitment to inclusion are at the centre of our College values and underpin the success of all students.

Our Commitment

BCA is committed to helping achieve equality for all students, apprentices, staff and our other stakeholders. We aim to ensure that all students, whatever their background, have the opportunity to benefit from aspirational and inspirational learning opportunities.

BCA's Mission Statement:

Providing high quality education that gives our students the knowledge, skills and experience to be successful in their chosen career.

BCA is committed to reducing gaps in attainment among people of all backgrounds, to promote equality and diversity as an integral part of all that we do. We are committed to ensuring that everyone has the opportunity to fulfil their potential through a fully inclusive approach to learning in which:

- equality is actively promoted
- diversity is welcomed, valued and celebrated · barriers are broken down
- unfairness, discrimination and inequalities are tackled and resolved

The College will strive for excellence in its promotion of equality and diversity. We will use the specific duties which are in place to eliminate conscious and unconscious discrimination. We will make equality and fair treatment an underpinning theme of the policies we develop, a constant in our teaching and learning and service provision and the management of our staff.

The scheme will be published on the College website and intranet.

Purpose

BCA's Single Equality Scheme sets out our approach to Equality and Diversity. It explains why and how we intend to promote equality and tackle discrimination for all our students, staff and communities.

This Single Equality Scheme was originally developed in response to our statutory obligations under the General and Specific Duties under the Equality Act 2010.

It is our intention to promote equality such that our approach goes beyond compliance with legislation and becomes embedded in our culture. This will enable us to become a fully inclusive organisation, eliminating discrimination, promoting equality and embracing diversity in all that we do.

The College is, therefore, well placed to meet the requirements of the Single Equality Duty and to address equality across the nine protected characteristics of:

- age
- disability
- gender
- gender reassignment
- marriage and civil partnership (employment issues only)
- pregnancy and maternity
- race
- religion or belief
- sexual orientation

And to have due regard to the need to:

- eliminate unlawful discrimination, harassment, victimization and any other prohibited conduct
- advance equality of opportunity between people who share a protected characteristic and people who do not share it
- foster good relations between people who share a protected characteristic and people who do not share it

We will also be mindful of our actions in relation to socio-economic factors. The scheme will enable the College to:

- create a positive learning and work environment which actively promotes, values and celebrates equality and diversity
- support retention and achievement irrespective of students' backgrounds
- provide high quality inclusive provision, support and services which are responsive to the needs of all staff, students and service users
- promote greater understanding and awareness
- achieve a workforce and student body that reflects the communities served by the College. Improve participation by under-represented groups

National and Regional Drivers

Single Equality Act

Legislative Context

The Equality Act brings together all existing equality legislation and includes a new public sector equality duty, replacing the separate duties relating to race, disability and gender equality.

The new legislation features a general equality duty and two specific equality duties, which all apply to public sector organizations.

The General Equality Duty

This requires public sector organizations, including colleges, to:

- eliminate unlawful discrimination, harassment and victimization
- advance equality of opportunity between people who share a protected characteristic and those who do not
- foster good relations between people who share a protected characteristic and those who do not

The Specific Equality Duty

The specific duties require public bodies to:

- publish information to show their compliance with the Equality Duty, at least annually
- set and publish equality objectives, at least every four years. All information must be published in a way that makes it easy for people to access it.

Ownership and governance

The College will promote ownership of the Scheme by all Governors, staff and students and will present a high public profile of the Scheme by means of:

- planning for equality and diversity within the College strategic planning framework
- regular communication and publicity to ensure awareness of the policy among:
 - students / apprentices
 - staff

- people applying to be students or staff · work placement providers
- suppliers of goods and services · the public
- opportunities for students, staff, external clients and others working in partnership with the College to influence the policy
- staff induction and development opportunities to promote ownership and awareness of the scheme and its provisions and to enhance and embed good consultative practice
- student induction and tutorial programmes to raise awareness and engage in debate
- taking reasonable steps to ensure that subcontractors, and third parties working for the College, are aware of and abide by this scheme
- working closely with employers and work placement providers to promote best practice

Monitoring

The Vice Principal, has responsibility for ensuring that the equality objectives are updated and regular reports on progress and performance against the action plan are made to SLT and the Corporation.

As part of BCA's commitment to equality and diversity, data will be collected every year to monitor the College's achievement in maximising success for all students, regardless of ethnic or social background, gender, age or disability.

Analysis of this data will enable the College to identify actions to promote equality and diversity more effectively across all aspects of its provision. Such analysis and corresponding recommendations will be reported as above. Every effort will be made to ensure that data collection is as unobtrusive to individuals as possible.

Managers and senior leaders will also be responsible for the monitoring of the scheme, reporting through the planning and self-assessment processes and quality systems as required.

Good practice as identified by lesson observation and self assessment will be systematically highlighted and disseminated.

In addition to the annual data pack analysis, levels of staff and student satisfaction are considered annually by managers and senior leaders. Additional monitoring is undertaken of a range of information including complaints, disciplinaries and student welfare by a range of demographic factors.

BCA will review its Single Equality Scheme annually and welcomes feedback to inform improvement.

Harassment, bullying and dignity at work

BCA is committed to an environment that is free from discrimination and intimidation, in which everyone is treated with dignity and respect and where harassment is known to be unacceptable.

Individuals should have the confidence to deal with and challenge these without fear of ridicule or reprisals.

Harassment and bullying both humiliate, denigrate and undermine the dignity of people in the workplace. They may be related to age, sex, race, disability, religion, nationality sexual orientation or any personal characteristic of the individual, and may be persistent or an isolated incident. In all cases the actions or comments are viewed as demeaning and unacceptable to the recipient.

Harassment could include:

- insulting someone by word or behaviour (particularly on the grounds of age, race, sex, disability, sexual orientation and religion or belief)
- any behaviour which causes discomfort, intimidates or offends or which incites others to do so (for example derogatory names, racist, sexist or homophobic jokes, ridiculing cultural difference)
- the display or circulation of offensive material, including racist, sexist or homophobic graffiti, electronic mail or information published through the Internet.

The College will:

- take action to prevent discriminatory behaviour against individuals or groups, including harassment and bullying related to age, sex, race, disability, religion, sexual orientation or any other protected characteristic
- deal promptly with any incidents that do arise and ensure they are reported, in accordance with its Anti-Bullying and Harassment Policy and formal complaint/grievance procedures
- record and monitor such reported incidents and report on these termly to SLT

Complaints

There are robust policies and procedures in place to deal with any staff or student reports of discrimination, harassment or bullying. These include the College Complaints Procedure and the Staff and Senior Post-holders' Grievance Procedures. Discriminatory complaints and grievances are monitored by SLT to identify trends and appropriate action. Complaints are categorized and include categories of:

- harassment and bullying
- equality and diversity
- homophobia

Staff and students are responsible for their own conduct and must ensure that their behaviour does not make any other person feel uncomfortable. It is the duty of all staff and students to avoid unfair discriminatory practices, to challenge them in others and to accept personal responsibility for abiding by this policy. The College Staff or Student Disciplinary Procedures will be used, as appropriate, for non-adherence to the policy.

Any individual who feels they are being discriminated against or harassed for reasons of a protected characteristic should raise the matter formally or informally, as appropriate, with one of the following in the first instance:

Students: Course tutor, Pastoral tutor, Wellbeing team, Vice Principal
Staff: Director, Human Resources, a member of SLT

The College Anti-Bullying and Harassment Policy should be referred to as appropriate. The student complaints and staff / senior post-holders' grievance procedures are available for cases of alleged discrimination, harassment and bullying.

All complaints under this Scheme will be recorded and actioned to an appropriate conclusion.

Complaints will be monitored and reported on through SLT and Corporation meetings.

Teaching and Learning

The College is committed to achieving the highest quality of teaching and learning. The College will ensure that all staff are aware of the standards of practice expected of them in terms of equality and diversity practice both in and out of the classroom.

- teaching and learning activities are inclusive
- materials and activities promote diversity

- advise the Head of Department of best practice in E&D in classroom practice
- be members of the Quality of Learning Team.

College Services

The College is committed to providing the highest quality services to students. In order to gauge levels of satisfaction among service users, the College will require that all service areas, as part of self-assessment, seek feedback and evidence from students as to the quality of their experience with a particular focus on equality and diversity. This feedback will be analysed, reported and improvements planned as appropriate as part of the annual process of self-assessment.

Publicity

All BCA's marketing and promotional information aims to project equality of access and opportunity to all the sectors of the community it serves.

College publicity will be regularly reviewed to ensure promotion and reflection of the diverse community which the College serves.

As much information as possible is provided to support a potential student in making an informed choice.

Every effort will be made to ensure that appropriate publicity reaches all groups in the community enabling the widest possible recruitment and participation in the College's education and training opportunities.

The College will maximise opportunities to celebrate festivals of major faiths and significant human rights events.

Recruitment and Selection - Staff

No College employees will discriminate unfairly, directly or indirectly, in making selection decisions.

If possible, interview panels' diversity will reflect that of the College. At least one member of staff involved in the selection and interview procedures will have been trained in recruitment and selection procedures, which will include an understanding of appropriate legislation.

All applications will be assessed according to clear pre-stated criteria which will be both objective and job-related.

Protected characteristics cannot be used as reasons for rejection (except where a Genuine Occupational Qualification or Genuine Occupational Requirement is in force).

In accordance with the College ethos any applicant who has disclosed a disability and who meets the essential requirements of the job, will be given an interview and the opportunity to discuss any adjustments that would be required to enable them to do the job.

The recruitment and selection of staff will be monitored in accordance with the Equality and Diversity Monitoring Framework.

Recruitment and Selection - Students

The procedures involved in gaining admission to College programmes will be clearly expressed and structured to allow ease of access to students. Prospective students will be offered appropriate support and guidance at all stages.

At enrolment, students will be asked to disclose their gender, age, ethnic origin, postcode and any additional support needs. This information will only be used for the purposes of providing support and for monitoring/review and funding purposes.

Students will have access to professional advice throughout the recruitment and guidance procedures.

Students will be given various opportunities to disclose support needs and will be able to discuss ways of providing solutions to problems of access and other issues which present a barrier to learning.

Recruitment of students will be monitored in accordance with the Equality and Diversity Monitoring Framework.

Initiatives will be developed to recruit students to non-traditional areas.

Curriculum and Access to the Curriculum

BCA is committed to inclusive, personalised learning, which recognises that students are individuals with individual learning styles and support needs.

The College will provide a diverse range of learning opportunities to facilitate access and achievement for the whole community.

The content and resources of College programmes will be considered by the Curriculum Leadership Team to ensure that they promote equality and diversity and do not discriminate against any student group.

Course content and methods of delivery will be considered to ensure that they address the learning needs of targeted groups. Courses will be made accessible to as wide a range of students as possible by enhanced flexibility in both delivery and timing.

Additional Support will be provided to all students requiring it, subject to available resources. Ways of modifying curriculum delivery to facilitate access for individuals with additional support needs will continue to be sought.

Procedures for accreditation and assessment will be flexible and responsive to the needs of the whole range of students who attend the College. This includes supporting those students for whom access arrangements and/or facilities may be required during examinations or assessments.

The College supports the entitlement, for the whole College community, to information, guidance and counselling, which will enable individuals to control their personal development and opportunity.

Achievement of a student's full potential is our priority. Differential patterns of achievement and retention by specific groups will be regularly monitored in accordance with the Equality and Diversity Monitoring Framework and the analysis used to inform planning and development of the curriculum. The self-assessment process will include analysis at programme area level of success rates by demographic factors.

Any applicable financial support will be fairly distributed and available in response to identified students' needs.

Individual Learning Plans will be in place for all full-time and substantive part-time students.

Awareness of equality and diversity issues will be included in student induction and tutorial programmes.

Equality Analysis

The College will assess the differential impact of all of its policies and procedures through a systematic process of equality analysis. Policies and procedures will be screened for potential adverse impact on the grounds of all protected characteristics.

New policies will be developed ensuring that avoidance of direct or indirect discrimination and promotion of diversity is a core consideration.

New policies will be screened for potential adverse impact and appropriate action taken if this is detected.

Existing policies are reviewed regularly. The College will undertake equality analysis of policies as they become due for review.

Consultation

Consultation and involvement are both ways of ensuring that the College meets the specific duties to promote race, disability and gender equality.

The College recognises its duty to consult in terms of race and gender equality and its duty to facilitate involvement in the case of disability equality.

Planned consultation with students will include questions on awareness of equality and diversity which can be analysed by ethnicity, gender and disability. Additional consultation will take place through student forums and staff surveys. Disabled staff and students shall be involved in the further development and implementation of the Disability and Equality Scheme Action Plan.

BCA will continue to search for and develop innovative, effective and meaningful ways of consulting to secure the input needed to ensure fulfilment of our commitments to students and the wider College community.

Reviewing and updating

Progress towards achieving the objectives identified in the Equality Action Plan will be reviewed by Senior Managers.

Continuing Professional Development

BCA recognises that all staff have a responsibility to promote equality and diversity. All staff shall have access to continuing professional development and support to ensure that they are aware of their individual responsibilities and to enable them to promote equality and diversity effectively and confidently.

Partnerships

The College values partnership working and seeks to develop and maintain strong and productive community links.

The College will encourage communities to participate at all levels in the full life of the institution and will take steps to encourage the involvement and participation of under-represented groups and sections of the community.

The College will work in partnership with communities, employers and other stakeholders to develop positive attitudes to diversity and difference and to address specific incidents.

The College will undertake consultation, where appropriate, with representative groups where impact assessment indicates this is required.

All work placement providers will receive a summary of their responsibilities under the policy and will sign to confirm their understanding of them. Contractors providing services to the College on or off College property will be made aware by means of a written statement of the College's Single Equality Scheme.

The College requires that contractors' staff conduct themselves so as not to give offence to others by means of unfair or unlawful treatment of any person because of race, colour nationality, ethnic or national origins, religion, creed, gender, sexual orientation, marital status, disability or age.

Currently, all Contractors for main services have a contractual obligation to ensure compliance with the College's Single Equality Scheme in the terms and conditions of the contract. The Scheme's action plan will ensure that this process is more robust.

This ensures that the needs of students progressing onto a BCA course are appropriately met.

The College encourages students with learning difficulties and/or disabilities to attend taster days on-site and the School and Marketing teams contact the schools to make arrangements for attendance.

Curriculum and Access to the Curriculum

The College strives to eliminate all barriers to disabled people across all aspects of College activity, including raising awareness and promoting the use of the preferred language of disability.

We recognise that within our student and staff body, 1 in 4 are likely to be disabled according to the definition within the Equality Act 2010 but, despite several opportunities for disclosure, many will prefer not to disclose a disability. Their wishes will be respected but our vision for disability equality is one where we will proactively work towards developing our procedures and practice into mainstreaming solutions that will benefit not only our disabled staff and students, but also our prospective staff and students.

Our Additional Learning Support Team will continue to work with teaching staff to promote the use of dyslexia-friendly materials and raise awareness of strategies which will support the learning of students with a range of disabilities. We will continue to invest in assistive technology and publicise its availability. This will include the provision of digital recorders and podcasts which enables the independence of disabled staff and students.

Where students are provided with learning support assistants as part of their support package at College, their support will be regularly reviewed with a view to reducing their dependence on others and increasing independence.

All staff are responsible for ensuring that:

- publications, policies, lesson content and teaching resources promote positive images of, and attitudes to, people with disabilities

The College believes the classroom should be a place where contributions from all students are valued.

The teaching environment will allow all students to contribute fully and feel their experiences are valued. Teaching will encourage students to express their point of view, listen to the views of others and examine critically a range of viewpoints. Books and materials will include positive images of men and women in non traditional roles and occupations. Teaching materials will be free from sexist language, bias and stereotyping.

Recruitment and Selection – staff

Our staff recruitment, selection and promotion procedures are designed and operate to eliminate bias and are in accordance with the SES. Applications for employment are drawn from as wide a pool as possible with positive action designed to encourage applications from women and men for non traditional areas.

Promoting and Managing Flexible Working

The College understands the difficulties facing those with young families or other caring responsibilities in the workplace and recognises the importance of a healthy work-life balance for all staff. The College currently operates a number of different working arrangements for different categories of staff.

Curriculum and Access to the Curriculum

Schemes of work, course content, induction and tutorial programmes are sensitive to and positively promote gender equality. Male and female students have access to the full range of College programmes, resources, support services and facilities.

All staff are responsible for ensuring that:

- publications, policies, schemes of work, lesson content and teaching resources avoid stereotyping and sexist language
- all teaching resources promote positive images of men and women
- teaching strategies encourage participation and achievement of male and female students
- stereotyping and sexist behaviour are challenged

Staff will attend mandatory equality and diversity training, initially at induction and during the course of the academic year and receive information regarding events as required.

Equality Analysis

The College will endeavour to ensure that all the College's policies help to achieve gender equality for students and staff and have no adverse impact on them. The College will identify the differential impact of all policies and procedures through equality analysis.

Professional Development

The staff induction programme will highlight the college's commitment to gender equality, explain legal responsibilities and examine good practice in terms of eliminating sex discrimination.

There will be professional training available throughout the year to address gender equality issues, including appropriate language and positive images, challenging sexist and discriminatory behaviour and embedding equality and diversity in teaching resources. All these sessions will also be available on the staff intranet.
